THE SITUATION IS CRITICAL.

BUT A CONFLICT WILL PROBABLY BE AVERTED.

The Miners Outwitted by De Armit's Uniformity Agreement Is Now Being Signed.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 7.—Pending expected developments late in the day, the striking miners who have been besieging De Armit's mines are resting. At no time since the beginning of the strike has the situation been so critical, but nobody seems to believe there will be a conflict.

De Armit says that he has outwitted the miners and made a gain at Plum Creek mines. Copies of the uniformity agreement have been mailed and are now in the hands of all the coal operators in the district. A large number of signatures have already been attached.

STRAIGHT TALK FROM SHERMAN.

Japan Need Not be Uneasy, England Will Not Bite and Spain Will Lose.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—Secretary Sherman, who has just returned from Amagansett, says no flag has as yet been raised in Hawaii and that Japan had no reason to fear unjust treatment at our hands. The Secretary said further that growing England will not bite because any quarrel over the sealing question would necessarily involve Russia and Japan. He declared that Spain is doomed to lose in Cuba, ultimately, and that she would be compelled to withdraw her troops and repudiate her enormous debt.

Miners Go Out in Ohio.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

MARETTA, O., Aug. 7.—Two hundred local miners along the Zanesville and Ohio River Railroad have quit work through sympathy for the striking miners. They were receiving the regular scale prices. The railroad is now cut off with only a short supply of coal on hand.

Another Lynching.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 7.—The report has reached here of the lynching of a negro at Spring Hill by a mob of enraged citizens. A lady accused him of attempting to assault her and the mob chased, captured and swung him to a tree without further ceremonies.

ANOTHER STRIKE IN CHICAGO.

Two Thousand Builders to Coerce the Board of Education.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—The union workmen employed on the forty-seven public school buildings in this city, now in course of erection, have ordered a strike for Monday. An attempt will be made to force the Board of Education to recognize organized labor. The strike will involve about two thousand workmen.

The Etruria Breaks Her Record.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Cunard liner, Etruria, arrived in port today, beating all her previous records from Liverpool. She made the trip in five days and twenty-one hours, an average of about twenty knots an hour.

Too Old to Go to the War.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Major Otis W. Pollock, of the twenty-fourth infantry, was placed on the retired list today. Major Pollock had reached the age limit.

Sherman's Health Improving.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

AMANAGAZETT, Aug. 7.—Secretary Sherman, with his private secretary, left yesterday for Washington. The Secretary appeared in much better health.

Second event, mile handicap—Amateur heat to qualify.

First heat—Hattensley won; Babcock, second; Schada, third.

Second heat—Ed Wilson won; Blake, second; Middleton, third.

Third heat—E. S. Youse, of Reading, won; W. A. Ladny, second; Goehler, third.

Fourth heat—L. Lewellyn won; Miller, second; French, third.

Fifth heat—Ray Murray won; H. Gardiner, second; Vanhust, third.

A Jump in Manhattan Elevated.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Manhattan Elevated railway stock jumped from 99½, yesterday's closing price, to 108 this morning. This jump is due to a rumor that all street railway lines in New York City are to be consolidated under Wm. C. Whitney.

Trains Collide.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 7.—The Chicago express due here at three thirty this morning collided with a switch engine at the Market street crossing. Engineer Martin was killed, the trains and engines were badly wrecked, but none of the passengers was injured, beyond a mere shaking up.

ACCIDENT AT L. A. W. MEETING.

Wheelman Runs Into an Obstruction and is Picked up Unconscious.

WILLOW GROVE TRACK, Pa., Aug. 7.—The first serious accident of the League of American Wheelmen race meeting occurred here this morning while the men were doing their preliminary runs. The electric light iron arm when Bly, of Northampton, Mass., came down the stretch full tilt and ran into the obstruction. He was picked up unconscious and the physicians pronounce his injuries of a serious nature. He was carried to the German Hospital. The machine was completely demolished.

Deadly Explosion of Cartridges.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

RUST CREEK, Aug. 7.—There was a deadly explosion of a cartridge depot in this city yesterday. Many buildings were demolished completely. Forty-six people were instantly killed and sixty others were seriously injured; all are in hopeless condition.

Surveyor General for Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—William T. Distin has been appointed Surveyor General of Alaska, vice Gilbert B. Pray, who declined.

THUMB BLOWN OFF.

Winston Welcomes the Return of the Firemen in Proper Style.

Winston gave her fire ladders a royal reception last night, a large number of citizens meeting them at the depot with brass band, military company, etc. A line of march was formed up town, where speeches were made, bond fires lighted and guns fired.

But there is one man, at least, in Winston who is sorry there was any shooting. He is Wiley F. Keith, engineer of Steamer No. 2. He was assisting in firing a canon, when, in some way his thumb was blown off. Of course it caused him great pain, but at last accounts he was doing very well.

Andrews has just received some of the finest peaches we have seen. Read what he says in the one-cent column.

RED TAPE ALL WOUND UP.

THE LATCH STRING ON THE OUTSIDE FOR HIS FRIENDS.

Col. J. E. Boyd Conducts His Office in Washington Just as he Does at Home.

Quite a number of the people from this State, who have the luck and privilege of counting Col. Boyd among their acquaintances, to say nothing of being friends, are laughing up their sleeves at the discomfort of the attaches of the corridors connecting with the Colonels offices.

In former administrations, to get to the offices of the Assistant Attorney General, you had to go through a whole lot of "red tape." You had to pass inspection under the auspices of about a dozen men in semi-livery, and identify yourself almost as surely as if you were in a bank and wanted a big check cashed. Then you could count yourself lucky if you got more than a moment of his time. "Things are changed," they say in Washington.

As an example of the Colonels manner of conducting the office, the experience of "Ramrod" Flanagan, of Graham, a few days ago, will answer to illustrate how he has taken his Greensboro hospitality to Washington and installed it in the department that the constitution sets aside to see that all men are on the same footing.

"Ramrod" had some urgent business in Washington, and it was necessary that he should see Col. Boyd. Of course he was not looking for an office, but just wanted to pay his respects to his old friend. He went up to the building in which the Colonels office was located and started in. The first man at the door held him up for his card. Now, "Ramrod" never carried any card more specific of his identity than a Jack of Diamonds, and did not know what to do. The "first gentleman of the corridor" called the "second gentleman of the corridor," and a heated discussion ensued as to what to do about it. Their Governmental protest could not drown out "Ramrod's" insistence that he wanted to see "Jim."

While the dispute was at its height, Colonel heard it in his office and recognized the voice of "Ramrod." He stepped out in the hall and in the same old cheery voice that is so well known to all his friends, who have reason to remember it, told "Ramrod" to come right on in—and make himself at home. It is said in Washington that now whenever a man from North Carolina shows up at the Department of Justice, and has no card of credentials, he is at once conducted to Col. Boyd's office and gets a cordial welcome—that is, if he is not looking for an endorsement for office.

THE TELEGRAM can congratulate the Colonel's corridor on having very little to do in handling the cards of visitors as they are not needed if they are from this Balliwick.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.

This Time It is at Mr. O. F. Pearce's Store—No Clue.

Some thief made a bad attempt at burglarizing Oscar Pearce's Store on last night. At the back end of the store there is a double door, and on the lower panel of one side of the door the attempt was made, the burglar using an auger to bore holes in it. The auger must have been a dull one, as none of the holes went through the door.

It is not known at what hour the attempt was made, though Mr. Clegg, who rooms in his hotel, next door to Mr. Pearce's, says he heard his dogs barking at some one in the rear of his building during the night. It may be the dogs frightened the burglar off.

Burglars must have a peculiar fondness for Mr. Pearce, as this is the third or fourth attempt that has been made upon his store. Three or four months ago some one tried to effect an entrance by smashing the same door the attempt was made upon last night.

On Local Taxation.

Prof. Joyner, of the Normal, went down on the noon train to Whitesett Institute by way of Gibsonville. There is to be speaking this afternoon at 3:30 on the question of local taxation for schools.

Prof. Joyner has just returned from the eastern section of the State and reports the situation in Lenoir and Johnston counties as encouraging. We hope that a State, which gave the lives and property of her people so freely in times of war, will be none the less great in times of peace in behalf of a cause which means so much to the present, and infinitely more to the future generations.

MT. AIRY DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

A Pleasant Session—An Unusually Large Attendance.

CULLER, N. C., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The tenth annual session of the Mt. Airy District Conference convened at Pine Station yesterday at 9 o'clock a. m. Rev. H. M. Blair, the beloved presiding elder, presides over the conference with grace, dignity and gentleness.

All the pastors and a large number of laymen from the district were present the first day. It is an unusually large attendance.

Mr. J. S. Bell, of Elkin, was elected Secretary. Mr. Blair gave a very excellent but practical opening talk to the conference.

Reports on the spiritual state of the church were made by the pastors. The afternoon session was devoted largely to discussion on spiritual helps and needs, and was edifying.

Rev. H. K. Boger preached at 11 a. m., and Rev. W. H. L. McLaurin at night. The morning sermon was edifying, while the one at night was quite searching and scriptural.

Rev. N. R. Richardson, colporteur agent for the Western North Carolina Conference, and Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey, editor of the Advocate, are here.

CULLER, N. C., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—The Conference was opened yesterday morning with a prayer service led by Rev. J. P. Rodgers. Reports on education and Sunday Schools were submitted.

Rev. Dr. Ivey, of Greensboro, delivered a remarkably fine address on Christian journalism and education. At 11 o'clock Rev. H. C. Sprinkle preached a good sermon on consecration.

The afternoon was devoted to discussion on education and the Sunday School. Dr. Barnett, of Mt. Airy, spoke for Trinity College. Rev. W. K. Boger, N. R. Richardson and others made speeches. At night Dr. Ivey preached a magnificent sermon.

The Southern's Excursion.

The excursion the Southern railroad is to run from Raleigh to Asheville on August 10th—next Tuesday—will be one of the most pleasant run during the entire season. It will be under the personal supervision of some of the officials of the Southern, and will be first-class in every respect. Baggage will be checked through.

If you are contemplating a trip to the "Land of the Sky" this is a splendid opportunity.

"REPUBLICANISM IN THE SOUTH."

The Union Republican this week re-prints an article on Republicanism in the South, contributed by Senator Pritchard to the Illustrated American. The article is not profound—nobody expects Mr. Pritchard to be profound—but it is manifestly meant to be non-partizan and fair, and it is only in places that the cloven hoof becomes visible and the language has a tinge of the demagogue. It may be taken as the exposition, by one of its most prominent representatives, of what the writer calls the "New Republicanism."

As such it makes interesting reading for either Democrat or Republican and its spirit entitles the Senator to a respectful hearing by his political opponents. The State is at present virtually in the hands of the Republicans; it is worth while to know what the Republicans, speaking through their chosen representative, would do for it. The thesis that the writer sets himself to prove is, that the South is allying itself, and will ally itself in future, with the Republican party because only through it can her raw resources be developed by protection. He says that "by every tie that should bind a section to a doctrine fitted for its betterment the South will, in my judgment, ally itself with the Republican party."

That sounds very pretty, but when we come to examine the facts we find that it is hardly two weeks since the Senator sat in a body controlled by this party and saw every item in a bill, full of this protection which is to do so much for the South, relentlessly expunged, if it tended in the least degree to benefit the State of the Senator or any of her Southern sisters. He speaks of the "broad philanthropic and patriotic demands of the Republican party for a Tariff;" and yet he was compelled to sit impotently by and see this "broad philanthropic" party throwing fat sops to the Northern States and he got not even a crumb for the South, which is to be linked to Republicanism with hooks of steel, in the future, by reason of benefits bestowed. It is not so much a question, it would seem, of whether the "doctrine is fitted for its betterment" as whether the party of the Senator will carry out any doctrine that would benefit the South. Dropping all discussion as to the merits of protection as a policy, the Republican party has once more shown, in a manner not to be mistaken, that the South may expect no protection from it. If added proof was needed to show that the Republican party is not either broad or philanthropic we have it. That it has never been able to quite shake off the bitter sectionalism in which it was steeped in the early years of its existence it has once more demonstrated. The times have been ripe for the Republican party to have gained large accessions in the South, if it had shown her favors; that time has passed. The opportunity to deal fairly by this section was squarely presented and it was maliciously spurned. The South has been once more given to understand that she need not apply.

The Senator has at least been charmingly frank in one place: "New England, Pennsylvania and other States of the North have been represented by men who seeing the advantage of a tariff system, energetically advocated its application to the interests of their people and through their influence these States have grown rich and powerful." It would be interesting to hear from the writer at whose expense "they grew rich and powerful." Those same rich and powerful States control the Republican party and they most certainly will see to it that the South gets as little as possible of either the riches or the power. The South has a brighter future before her but that it will come despite the Republican party, and not through it, the tariff bill of the late Congress has shown conclusively. The article was written before the passage of this bill and the Senator felt "confident that Congress would give to the Southern States their just and proportionate share of the benefits arising from protection. This confidence turned out to be rather ill placed. Mr. Pritchard was as powerless, amid the disgraceful scramble, to secure a "share of the benefits" as any of his Democratic predecessors were in like circumstances. If every Southern State had been represented by Republicans the same would have been true. When the Senator says the "time is not far distant when North Carolina can be counted upon to cast her vote for the Republican party with the same certainty as we now rely upon Pennsylvania, he grows prematurely prophetic." Pennsylvania has "grown rich and powerful" through the successive tariff bills of the Republican party; North Carolina owes that party nothing and has nothing to expect from it save the unjust discrimination and uniform hostility to which she, along with the rest of the Southern States, has been subjected always.

WHY WE BLUSH.

What the Brethren of the Press Have to Say About Us.

Greensboro's new daily paper, THE EVENING TELEGRAM, made its bow to the public Saturday evening and met with a hearty reception. It is ably edited, handsomely gotten up, and bears every indication of success.—Patriot.

C. B. Kendall, formerly editor and proprietor of the New Smyrna (Fla.) Breeze, is now connected with THE EVENING TELEGRAM, a neat and lively daily just started at Greensboro, N. C.—Jacksonville (Florida) Daily Citizen.

THE EVENING TELEGRAM, a bright six-column daily, made its appearance at Greensboro on Saturday last. We congratulate the management. Their first issue shows every evidence of a healthy support. May it live long and prosper.—Wilson Advance.

THE EVENING TELEGRAM, Greensboro's new evening daily, made its first appearance last Saturday. It is a neat six column paper, and starts off well. It is published by Clem G. Wright and C. P. Sapp, latter as editor, with Joseph J. Stone as business manager.—Roxboro Courier.

THE GREENSBORO EVENING TELEGRAM made its appearance on July 31st. It is a six column folio and presents a very neat appearance. It takes the "pony" dispatches and shows signs of being a spicy and lively paper. It starts out with a good advertising patronage, and we predict for it success.—Washington Progress.

We have received the first issue of THE GREENSBORO EVENING TELEGRAM, Mr. C. P. Sapp is editor and Mr. W. I. Underwood is city editor. It is a six column, four page folio, well printed and newsy. Greensboro is to be congratulated on her new paper and we feel confident THE TELEGRAM will be a success. We welcome Bro. Sapp in the journalistic field.—Evening Messenger, Washington, N. C.

THE GREENSBORO EVENING TELEGRAM has made its appearance and a very neat, comely one it is. It is a twenty four column paper, and its initial number is excellent. It runs over with news and other clippings, is crowded with original matter of various kinds and moves off in fine style. It is published by a company of which Mr. C. G. Wright is president and Mr. Joseph J. Stone is business manager. Mr. C. P. Sapp is the editor. The Messenger wishes one and all a most successful career.—Wilmington Messenger.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS

[All books and magazines mentioned below may be had at Wharton's book store.]

Hall Caine's Christian socialistic romance "The Christian," which has been running as a serial in Munsey will be published in book form next month. Admirers of Mr. Caine are welcome to it in advance.

Mme. Sarah Grand, the lady with an Irish pedigree and French name, who perpetrated the "Heavenly Twins," will publish a new novel soon. It will trace the psychological evolution of a woman and will be largely autobiographical.

F. MARION CRAWFORD's latest story of Italian life, "Corleone," is nearing completion in Munsey's Magazine. With its scenes laid in the modern society of Rome, the most ancient and also the newest of the world's great capital cities, and amid the romantic surroundings of an old Sicilian castle, it is a drama of stirring action, in which the Mafia plays a powerful part—a tale of true love and of exciting adventure.

THE CENTURY Holiday Number is not a very wide departure from the ordinary number of that periodical—which means that it has plenty that is readable. One little gem out of the many readable things of the number is the "Day in Norway" by Horace Scudder. It is just one of those delightful little bits that the literary prowler stumbles on occasionally, that stay with him in a lingering relish that repays for much wandering among common place excellence.

A BOOK that has received a good deal of attention, is the "Pomp of the Lavilletes," by Gilbert Parker. Mr. Parker is almost the only writer by whom Canadian life has been drawn in lines attractive to the general public. He is as much at home in the bleak northwest as Kipling is in India. The "Pomp of the Lavilletes" is not up to the mark of some of the author's previous books—"Pierre and His People," for example—but there is no lack of that peculiar power to draw character in bold outline that readers of former books are familiar with. The rollicking, cynical, dare-devil Irish nobleman, who is really the central figure of the story, is one of the most distinct figures, if not quite a creation, that the fiction of the year can show. Incidentally, underlying the tragedy of the book, there is a good deal of what might be called the psychology of the unprincipled.

SCRIBNER'S for August is really a gem; from its artistic front cover to its last page of matter, it bears evidences of that good taste which has marked Scribner's, more perhaps than any of our magazines. It is a fiction number and Blanche Willis Howard, Rudyard Kipling and Frank R. Stockton are among those who help to furnish its delightful bill of fare. Kipling easily vanquishes Cy Warman on his own heath with a railroad story. Stockton's "Buller-Padinton Compact" is rich with that exquisite humor that makes every one a slave to Stockton who falls under its spell. I believe there is more of the purely individual in his stories than in any of the many bright writers of the day; you might put one author's name at the top of another's new story and few people would suspect the imposition; but who could mistake a story of Stockton's? The illustrations are above the average, those in "Its Walls were of Jasper" being especially in keeping.

WE HAVE heard a good deal of late of the cheap magazines. McClures would fall in this class as it costs only ten cents, but not one of the high priced magazines for this month presents such an array of talent among its contributors. Kipling, Doyle, Hope, Barr, Riley, Hamlin Garland, R. L. Stevenson, Bangs; surely these names in a "Mid-summer Fiction Number" should content one. Kipling's "Slaves of the Lamp" gives one a taste of English school life and Soldier life in India. It will please those who like Kipling—for it is quite Kipling-like. Why is it by the way, that so few women like Kipling? Is it because of his essential virility or because he leaves so much to one's powers of inference?

Cy Warman woos the muse, not very successfully, in railroad verse. It may be stated that most attempts at poetizing the railroad have not given Homer cause for envy. Mr. Warman is no exception. By and by, when the airship is a reality and the railroad is not, it will be more tolerable material for verse.

Anthony Hope sets some of Gibson's drawings in a comment called "Gibson on Love and Life," while Doyle has a sea story. John Kendrick Bangs contributes a story of the wherefore of which is not very apparent, and Stevenson's "St. Ives" runs through several more chapters.

Carpenters are at work on Armfield, Ridge & Vickory's store which was so badly damaged by the recent fire. Just so soon as the necessary repairs can be made it will be recouped by Armfield, Ridge & Vickory.

STATE NEWS.

An engine drawing a passenger train was derailed at Gastonia, no one being hurt.

The Scotland Neck Commonwealth says Halifax county cannot pay its county orders.

It is reported that H. L. Grant, of Goldsboro, will succeed A. E. Holton as Supervisor of Elections.

Martin Dye, on trial in Winston for poisoning a little girl, was acquitted, says the Sentinel.

The contract has been let for the railroad which is to join the Wilmington and Weldon and the Wilmington and Newberne roads.

The Commonwealth says the Scotland Neck knitting mill is going to largely increase its capacity to keep up with the increasing business. These are the kind of enterprises that help a town.

Dr. Jno. R. Moss, Republican chairman of the Board of Commission of Vance county, was bound over to court in a bond of $500, charged with offering to take a bribe to issue liquor licenses.

A boiler explosion occurred at a saw mill in the lower section of Beaufort county a few days ago. Two men were killed and several others very badly injured.

De Armit's Men Join the Strikers.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 6.—Bulletin No. 3, by President Ritchford, to the coal miners, recalls the meeting of labor chiefs at Wheeling, and their unanimity, and asserts that if the miners lose, it will be their own fault.

Western Pennsylvania has added 1,600 miners to the list of strikers. This includes three De Armit mines. De Armit says West Virginia operators contributed $10,000 through miners' officials to stop coal mining in Ohio and Pennsylvania. He is defied to make the charge direct against any miness' official. West Virginia is now the battle ground. A more thorough campaign is about to be started there. Miners are congratulated for good order.

Dingley and Wilson Bills Compared.

WASHINGTON, August 5.—The completed comparison of the tariff bill prepared by Mr. Charles H. Evans, the tariff expert, was made public today. The following are some of the comparisons, in addition to those given last week:

The average ad valorem duty of the flax, hemp and jute schedule is lower in the new law than in the Wilson. That of the Wilson law was 46.94 per cent. The present law is 45.18 per cent. The average ad valorem of the pulp, paper and book schedule under the present law is 30.30 per cent; under the Wilson law it was 22.18 per cent. The average ad valorem of the sundry schedule under the Dingley law is 23.35 per cent, and under the Wilson tariff law it was 24.70 per cent.

The total value of articles transferred from the free list to the dutiable list is placed at $101,968,941. Only two articles were transferred from the dutiable to the free list. These were cocoanuts in the shell and sheep dips.

Bound and Gagged.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 5.—Masked men bound and gagged the agent of the Gabaith Grand Trunk Railway here last night and then blew up the safe, securing from it a considerable sum of money. The agent was unconscious when discovered.

KI.

When the genius grasps the prize, the applause should be hearty. The Hon. Ki Gudger, one of the most original, meritorious and select political notabilities of North Carolina, was appointed consul to Panama the other day, and the congratulations of an admiring country are coming in upon him like a flood. Among the sons of the Tar Heel are State distinguished characters, but the Hon. Ki Gudger is equaled by few and excelled by none of them. He carries to the isthmus a great name that will cover and illuminate it. He reads Spanish at sight, and speaks it at thirty days. Long live Don Ki!—New York Sun.

Notice of a room to rent was handed in to THE TELEGRAM and before it could be set up the owner sent word that he had rented it. There are no empty houses in Greensboro. We know of parties who have been trying for a week to rent without success. We don't have houses "to burn."

OPPOSED TO THE VILE STUFF

THE MATTER BROUGHT BEFORE THE YEARLY MEETING.

"When the Church of Christ is a Unit on This Question the Saloon Will Go"—Personals.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Aug. 6, '97. The North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends met in separate session yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. An epistle was read from the Dublin Yearly Meeting and one from Indiana.

It appeared that a great many members in the Yadkin Valley quarter sell their grain to distillers and the plea was made that they were forced to do so to get bread and meat. A lengthy discussion was brought about by the complaint that those members be dealt with and disowned unless they recognize the error of their way.

Speaking of hard times, Amos Kenworthy remarked that if all the members who attend yearly meeting would quit using tobacco, there would be more prosperity than there is.

By the reports from the various quarterly meetings it was found that there were seventy-two members who dealt in, sold or used intoxicants.

Dr. Cartland wanted some provision made to remedy this evil and have no more of this kind of record.

The opinion of the meeting seemed to be that as long as the church votes for a party that endorses the whiskey business, the church uses its influence to put whiskey into the mouths of the brethren, and therefore could not consistently turn members out of the church for occasional rum drinking.

Wm. Pinkham made a very good talk, and among other things said:

"We ought to be actuated by methods altogether above ordinary politicians' modes. Let us stand for cleanliness. * * * I don't believe a man ever loses his vote who casts it for a noble principle. God takes care of that matter. Let us not be deluded by any such talk that we would throw away our votes if we didn't vote for one of the great parties, both of which are thoroughly committed as regards the liquor traffic. * * * When the church of Christ is a unit on this question, the saloon will go."

Eastern Quarter requested that they be released from their share of the $200 appropriated for evangelistic work, as they believed that would be fostering a hireling ministry. The Meeting sympathized with their conscientious scruples and appointed a committee to wait upon them and report at a future meeting.

The Blue Ridge Mission made its tenth annual report yesterday afternoon and an appropriation of $150. Report with appropriation were approved. The report showed that the school is in a prosperous condition and is in a fair way to become self-supporting in the near future. Superintendent David Sampson also reported, and handed in his resignation. This the Meeting did not accept, but requested the brother to retain the place until he had made the matter the subject of further prayerful consideration.

The name of the Women's Foreign Mission Society was changed to the "Friends' Foreign Mission Board," and both men and women will hereafter take part in the work. This Society sent $54.10 to the famine sufferers in India during the past year.

At four o'clock p. m. the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society convened. The report of the Secretary showed eight societies, with 250 members, 102 of whom have been added to the list during the past year. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Charles Petty, president; Emma Blair, vice-president; Anna T. Jones, secretary; Walter W. Mendenhall, treasurer; Ruth Murray Worth, organizer and superintendent of Junior department, and Rev. Meade Kelsey, superintendent of missions.

Rev. T. A. Smart went up to Greensboro this morning. From thence he will go to Salisbury on a visit home.

E. R. Carr passed through this morning returning home from Greensboro.

Dr. J. W. Long went down the Asheville road yesterday morning, but was recalled by telegram to Lexington, for which place he and Dr. Stanton left last night to operate on the son of C. M. Thompson for appendicitis.

Rev. Ishida to Lecture.

Rev. A. S. Ishida, a native Japanese, will lecture at Evangelist Lee's tent this evening at 8 o'clock, his lecture taking the place of the usual song service. It is hoped that a large crowd will be out to hear him, as he is said to be a very interesting speaker. He comes highly recommended from Salisbury, High Point and other places where he has lectured.

Mr. L. E. Darden was inadvertently omitted from the list of Our Live Business Men. Mr. Darden as a business man is very much alive and we take pleasure in calling attention to the correction.

Mrs. B. E. Jones, accompanied by three of the children, returned home last night from a months visit to relatives in Iredell county; and today Mr. Jones is wearing such a smile as has not been seen on his face since their honeymoon.

Prof. J. Allen Holt, of that deservedly popular school, Oak Ridge, was in town today. We are glad to hear the prospects for the coming term, which begins on the 18th instant, are very flattering. He reports the road force as doing good work between Guilford College and Oak Ridge.

AT THE TENT LAST NIGHT.

Small Crowd—Mercy and Grace Mr. Lee's Subject.

The rain kept many away from the tent meeting last night, but the few who braved the storm and went, enjoyed a good service. Mr. Lee preached on mercy and grace, taking his text from Hebrews 4:16. He preached a splendid sermon, and when penitents were invited to the altar five came forward, two of whom were converted.

There will be services again tonight and tomorrow night. Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock a special service for men only will be held. The song-service will be held at 3:30, and the singing will be by a male choir. All men are invited to this service.

A Correction.

In Mr. Daniel's communication yesterday our compositor made an error in stating that the bicycle run would be from Pomona to the "big run." It should have been "to the big well," which is on the top of the hill just this side of South Buffalo, at the Russell place.

Another Wreck.

A small wreck occurred last night on the North Carolina road which delayed the early morning train nearly five hours. A freight train was humping along near Elford, a small station between Mebane and Hillsboro, when two box cars jumped the track. No serious damage was done, so far as we could learn.

The wreck was cleared in time for the train due here at 6:20 to come in at 11 o'clock.

Thomas vs. City of Greensboro.

The case of John W. Thomas vs. City of Greensboro has not yet been disposed of. The most of the morning was consumed in hearing the evidence, the case being given the lawyers shortly before noon. They will probably finish this afternoon, when it will go to the jury.

The evidence is so conflicting it is impossible to tell what the verdict will be.

The Juniors Come Home.

The boys composing the junior reel team reached home over the C. F. and Y. V. yesterday evening, and a happier, jollier crowd of boys we have never seen. But they have a right to be jubilant, for they are the champion "kid" team of the State. They won $25—first money—in Fayetteville.

By the way, an old fireman who saw the boys run, told us last night that they made one of the prettiest runs he ever saw.
